

Impact Science Series: Spotlight on “Unleashing the Power of Prevention”

The UW School of Social Work’s pursuit of solution-focused Impact Science includes opportunities to bring members of our science and practice/policy communities together. By sharing perspectives regarding issues salient to the profession, we foster spaces for cross-fertilization. We open with a focus on some of the national Social Work Grand Challenges Initiative topics.

J. David Hawkins
Professor
School of Social Work

Liz Wilhelm
Drug Free Communities Coordinator
Prevention WINS Coalition

Vaughnetta Barton
Clinical Assistant Professor
School of Social Work

Social Work Building, Room 305
Tuesday, February 12, 2019
4:30—6:30 pm

4:30—5:15: Meet and Greet, with refreshments

5:15—6:00: Program

6:00—6:30: Community Conversation

Please follow the link to RSVP, as refreshments and light hors d’oeuvres will be served: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/impact-science-series-unleashing-the-power-of-prevention-tickets-54381030125>

socialwork.uw.edu